ATHLETICS FINALLY BEATEN

Red Sox Bowl Along on Winning Career and Thump Them.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16 .- Boston gave champion Athletics their first defeat of the championship season to-day. The score was 9 to 2. After Joe Wood settled down in the second inning there never was any doubt as to the outcome of the game. Although the Athletics totalled thirteen hits, they could not make them count. This was due to their scattered variety and to the fact that Gardtered variety and to the fact that Gardner caught two line drives, either one of which, had it gone safe, might have chansed the complexion of the game.

Krause started the pitching for the home team, but he was driven from the line in the first session and Danforth, who relieved him, was clouted hard and timely. The game was notable for five double plays, eleven strikeouts by Wood and the fact that Stahl at first base made only two putouts.

Bill Sweeney had one of his thick days, Bill is not a sprinter, but to-day he thought he was another Ty Cobb and tried to get around to third from first on Campbell's sacrifice. The result was a double play and the incident seemed to take the gimp out of the locals, for they were all to the bad in the next inning, the fifth. In that session New York put the game on ice with three runs, Sweeney holding the ball so long that one man tailled before he thought it was neces-

McGraw retired him then because he had batted for 1,000 per cent. day the little manager did the same thing to the Indian. Meyers had made a hit for each of three times up and scored two runs. McGraw decided that he couldn't risk so good a man in another inning and benched him, Wilson taking the mask.

Merkle was back on the salary list to-day and was given his old job. He was the first to bat in the second inning and walked. Herzog singled and Shafer's bunt walked. Herzog singled and was walked. There was fun in the fifth. Meyers singled to centre. Marquard bunted for a gled to centre. Marquard bunted for a sacrifice, but McDonald threw low to sacrifice, but McDonald threw low to base line and was safe because the Bostonians guessed wrong, the ball rolling for fair. It says that the advance sale of seats is limited to the upper tier of the stadium and field boxes of the lower tier. Half of the upper, or grand, tier will be offered at the advance sale at the club offices, 1133 Broadway, these all being in rows in odd numbers from front to rear. All the rows in even numbers will be placed on sale in the ticket booths at the Polo Grounds to-morrow. There are 15,000 seats in the lower tier

There are 15,000 seats in the lower tier which will be on sale at the Polo Grounds for the opening day, making in all about 20,000 seats available for those who do not buy seats at the advance sale. A large number of boxes have been held out from advance sale for those who may want to buy them at the grounds. "This fact," says the statement, "should assure the public that there will be no necessity for paying fancy prices to the speculator."

for paying fancy prices to the speculator."

The foregoing statement does not include the open seats, of which there are 13,000 available. The entrance from the Speedway has been enlarged and admits directly to the upper and lower tiers of the stadium. The 25 cent entrance is on Eighth avenue and 157th street direct from the surface line. The 50 cent entrances also are on Eighth avenue and 157th street direct from surface or elevated lines.

The entrances, of which there are twenty-seven, are so arranged that those entering them may express their choice as to the proper time for starting the game, two arbitrary periods having been selected, 3:30 and 4 P. M. The fan simply passes through the stile he prefers, which registers his choice.

The gates will be thrown open at 12 o'clock and the game will start at 4 o'clock.

BROOKLYNS' DOWNFALL HELPED BY RED DOOIN

Phillies Win Through His Timely Hitting and Generalship.

ROW OVER RIGLER'S RULING

Calls Two Out for Interference and Ejects Manager Bill Dahlen.

Charles Dooin, Esq., manager and catcher of the Philadelphias, cut an im-portant figure in the victory over the Brooklyns at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. Dooin, with two men out in the seventh inning and Downey on third, found Pitcher Knetzer fo r aslashing base hit to centre. This bingle not only scored Downey with the tieing run, but also un-nerved the Brooklyn boxman to such a degree that Brennan came along with a Dooin across the plate and counting himself a moment later on Knabe's line drive past the middle bag. This rally made the score 4 to 2 in favor of the Quakers and it remained unchanged to the end. Dooin also showed craftiness behind the bat. In the first inning, with Moran at first, he claimed that Daubert interfered with his throw to cut down the former's attempted steal. Moran reached second in safety on a widely pitched ball, but the instant Dooin filed a noisy protest Umpire Rigler called Daubert out, also sending Moran back to his original sta-tion. Dooin got away with a similar claim in the seventh inning, which probably killed a Brooklyn rally. Downs began that period with a clean single, but when he had stolen second Rigler declared Stark out for the same offense. Dooin alleged that Stark had purposely thrust his bat out so that the throw to the bag was impeded. Rigler's ruling in this instance did not seem warranted and Bad Bill Dahlen Rigler's ruling in this instance did not seem warranted and Bad Bill Dahlen promptly took the stump. He delivered an oration at the home plate, assisted by several Brooklyn players, until Rigler pulled out his watch and ordered Dahlen off the field. Dahlen made sundry faces at the umpire in chief on the way to the clubhouse, while 4,000 overheated fans howled and groaned. With their strenuous leader banished the Brooklyns became passive and thereafter the visitors were in no immediate danger.

Brennan, a left hander, had faultless control, great speed and a dazzling drop ball. He did not give a single free pass and barring the second inning he had the Brooklyns at his mercy. Two runs were the sum total of the home team's scoring and they came together through a combination of Paly's single, Downs's cracking base hit, a sacrifice fly by Stark and a rousing three bagger from Phelps's bat. These runs put the Brooklyns one ahead, as the Phillies in the first part of the second inning made one taily on Cravath's two bagger, a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly which Downs caught in short centre field after a hard run.

There were masy sensational plays. Daly, the Brooklyns' young left fielder, for instance, collared seven fly balls, several of which might have been long safe hits had it hot been for his watchfulness. Daly also hit the ball hard, as did Moran, who has become a fixture and a big favorite. Downs covered second base in clever style and also stung the leather. Knetzer pitched well enough to win an ordinary game, but Brennan outclassed him.

Fast couble plays, one by Downs, Stark and Daubert in the third inning and the other by Brennan, Doolan and Luderus of Smith's twisting foul in the first round was all wool and a yard wide. The steaming weather made the teams put up livelier ball than on Monday, but the astendance showed a decrease in numbers.
